Core Services Corporation Shines at Oracle Tradeshow Core Services receives OAUG “Best in Show 2007” Exhibitor Award

Morristown, NJ May 3rd, 2007 – Core Services, an Oracle Application User Group (“OAUG”) 3-Star Partner and Oracle Certified Partner, received another prestigious marketing award. The Core team won the highly coveted “OAUG Exhibitor Best in Show” award at the COLLABORATE 07 event last April 15-19th in Las Vegas, Nevada.

The award is based on several criteria: best branding of company name, best presentation of services and/or products, most overall creative booth design and layout, most creative traffic stopper and most importantly, demonstrating if the products and/or services are a benefit to the Oracle community. A secret panel of judges also evaluated the Core Services’ staff on their overall customer service and helpfulness while working the booth.

“Core Services has been a dedicated member of the OAUG for over 10 years,” explains Denise Quashie, Director of Strategic Relations for the OAUG. “Each year they raise the bar with their presence on the exhibit floor.” Quashie lauds Core Services’ consistent ability to bring excitement and innovation, and the talent to showcase their services with style. “Core has been a strong supporter of the OAUG, and they will continue to be an anchor at future events”

“As an OAUG 3-Star Partner, Core Services rigorously supports the OAUG’s global mission of providing the expanding family of Oracle Applications users with the tools they require to increase productivity, maximize investment, and influence the quality and support of Oracle Applications,” says Keith Inouye, Core Services Vice President of Sales and Marketing. “Core Services will continue to stay active in the OAUG community through the Star Partner Program, and we will also take active roles at future local and national OAUG events.”
